

Re-balancing China

Essays on the Global Financial Crisis, Industrial Policy and International Relations
Peter Nolan

Pub Date: February 2014

Binding: Hardback

Price: £70 / $115

ISBN: 9781783081264

Extent: 264 pages

Size: 229 x 152mm / 9 x 6

Illustrations: 30+ tables and figures

Category: BUSINESS & ECONOMICS / International / General

BISAC code: BUS035000

BIC code: KCL

Rights Held: World

This title is also available as an ebook

Description

Offers unique insight from a leading expert on the core issues affecting China's political economy today.

'Very few Western academics know China through its economy, history and culture as well as Peter Nolan. This is a remarkable book, breathtaking and original in its analysis of the transformations in China's economy as it seeks to re-balance internally and with the rest of the world. No one has done this better in context and explained the tensions and conflicts within China and with its major trading partners and competitors. I could not put this book down.'

—Andrew Sheng, President of the Fung Global Institute, Hong Kong

'Peter Nolan offers a range of valuable insights into what the post-2013 scenarios for China and the world might look like. The discussions range from the changing global balance of economic power to the dilemmas of Chinese industrial policies, and conclude with a striking study of China's changing strategic position and the maritime disputes in the East Asian region. Anyone concerned with the Chinese dimension of our global political evolution should read this book.' —Christopher Howe, SOAS, University of London

'Re-balancing China is less a book about China than an original and penetrating analysis of the development of global capitalism and China's place within it. Better than anyone else, Peter Nolan explains the choices facing China's leadership before and after the global crisis, and the implications of these choices for China and the world. This book is an important response to the alarmism found in so much of the popular and academic writing on China's rise.'

—Jonathan PinCUS, Rajawali Institute for Asia, Harvard Kennedy School

Re-balancing China addresses three key sets of issues in China's political economy: the impact of the global financial crisis, the challenge of globalization for the nation's industrial policy, and the potential conflict that might arise from the West's fears of China's growing economic and military power.

Readership: This book will be of interest to scholars, policymakers and businessmen with an interest in China and its place in the global political economy.

Contents

Introduction; Chapter 1: Rebalancing in the Face of the Global Financial Crisis (I): November 2008; Chapter 2: Rebalancing in the Face of the Global Financial Crisis (II): November 2011; Chapter 3: China's Industrial Policy at the Crossroads; Chapter 4: Globalization and Competition in Financial Services; Chapter 5: China, Western Colonialism and the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS); Chapter 6: A New Peloponnesian War? China, the West and the South China Sea

About the Author

Peter Nolan is the Chong Hua Professor of Chinese Development and Director of the Centre of Development Studies at the University of Cambridge.

Ordering in the UK/Rest of the World

Marston Book Services
P.O. Box 269
Abingdon, Oxfordshire
OX14 4YN, United Kingdom
Tel: +44 (0)1235 465577
Fax: +44 (0)1235 465556
direct.orders@marston.co.uk
trade.orders@marston.co.uk

Ordering in North America

Books International
P.O. Box 605
Herndon, VA 20172-0605
United States
Tel: +1 703 661 1570
Fax: +1 703 661 1501
bimail@presswarehouse.com